

MOTHERS AND GROWN-UP FRIENDS TAKING PART WITH CHILDREN IN NOVEL SCHOOL CLASSES AT HISTORIC

CMC/1102

(1) A class in progress in the banqueting-hall. (2) Mothers and friends take part in the lessons. (3) Some of the "pupils." (4) The Hon. Mrs. Franklin hon. organ. Mothers and children are forming members of school classes at Winchester this week. Under the auspices of the Parents' Educational Union congress is being held in the historic Guildhall, the object being to provide a meeting ground for intercourse between parents, teachers, and all interested in education. Yesterday a daily time-table of lessons was be- trained at the House of Education, Ambleside, when these pictures were taken. The lessons include tales, pictorial talks, natural history, citizenship, architecture, everyday life, and so on. Daily Sketch
